

Senior Frontend Developer (m/f/d), Berlin

Are you looking for career opportunities within a global growing real estate company?

Then you might be our next Senior Frontend Developer in our more than 170 people strong technology department in Berlin?

Join us and be a part of our journey.

You have the chance to work in a quality focused team and in brand new projects with cutting edge technologies and hardware.

work description

- design, implement and maintain applications in Angular 2/7
- implementing and maintaining Angular Component Libraries
- work with PWA, SSR

who you are

- experience in frontend development
- knowledge with TypeScript, Angular 2/7, SCSS
- you write clean code, follow best practices and test your code

- experience in building component libraries, e2e testing and Angular SSR is a plus
- fluent English, speaking German or Swedish is a plus

what we offer you

At Akelius you get work-life balance, an inspiring workplace, flexible working hours and big responsibility within a flat organization.

In a helpful and open environment, we develop together as specialists and managers.

That is why we shape our staff with first class education at Akelius Business School.

how to apply

Please send your application to career@akelius.de including you latest CV.

You find further information on www.akelius.de.

about Akelius

Akelius acquires, upgrades and manages residential properties. The company owns 47,000 apartments in Sweden, Denmark, Germany, France, England, Canada and the US.

Akelius concept is Better Living.

This means that Akelius upgrades residential units to a quality level with newly constructed apartments.

We build our own applications and create our own technology. Akelius also helps people in need around the world by Akelius Foundation's charity work.