

architect for design guidelines (m/f/d), Berlin

Are you looking for career opportunities within a global growing real estate company?

Then you might be our next Architect (m/f/d) in Berlin.

Join us and be a part of our journey.

work description

- research and develop design and living concepts
- creating, discussing, communicating and implementing design guidelines in an international context
- product specification and selection

who you are

- completed study of architecture and appropriate professional experience
- mastery of CAD software such as AutoCAD, ArchiCAD, Rhinoceros, SketchUp
- mastery of Adobe Creative Suite and Microsoft Office
- in-depth knowledge of materials and products as well as understanding of construction
- enjoyment of collaborative work and problem solving
- well organized and independent
- fluency in English in both writing and speech

what we offer you

At Akelius you get work-life balance, an inspiring workplace, flexible working hours and big responsibility within a flat organization.

In a helpful and open environment, we develop together as specialists and managers.

That is why we shape our staff with first class education at Akelius Business School.

how to apply

You find further information at akelius.de

Please send your application with your earliest start date and salary expectation to career@akelius.de.

We interview candidates continuously.

about Akelius

Akelius acquires, upgrades and manages residential properties. The company owns 47,000 apartments in Sweden, Denmark, Germany, France, England, Canada and the US.

Akelius concept is Better Living.

This means that Akelius upgrades residential units to a quality level with newly constructed apartments.

We build our own applications and create our own technology. Akelius also helps people in need around the world by Akelius Foundation's charity work.